POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION

Dear Sir/Madam:

US Postmaster General Louis DeJoy has filed his 10-year plan to slow US mail, offer less services and close post offices all over the country! We have to stop him. Generations of average Americans value their Post Office as a life line to the world...connecting with family & friends, paying bills & receiving reimbursements, sending & receiving packages and even voting. Anybody who values the Post Office should strive to improve service to their customers. Why should customers pay more money for slower service?

Thanks for your attention to this threat.

Respectfully,

Mary Joe Yen
